25 Years of Growing Patronage

HOUSE OF SYDNOR & HUNDLEY
25 Years of Efficient Service

The Bond Between the Homes of Our City and the Service Which Our Institution Renders

Has been gradually strengthened year by year. The present close association existing between the home on one hand and the firm on the other is the result of a union which was consummated twenty-five years ago---

An Alliance Which Has Developed Through Mutual Confidence

Changing conditions in the life of our city, a growth so phenomenal as to seem almost unreal--a town changed into a metropolis in the eyes of one generation--an increase of fifty-thousand population in twenty-five years--such have been the kaleidoscopic phases in Richmond's progress which the firm of Sydnor & Hundley has been called on to meet.

Growing with the growing city, we have adjusted our ideas to meet these changing needs, studying new conditions and developing new conceptions, discriminating between the fad of the moment, the bizarre and outre in style, and the article of real service.

This establishment has represented at all times the best in quality---lasting worth and permanent value.

A strong furniture house of reliable reputation and high business standards, co-operating with the housekeeper in her particular needs, large or small, a working partner---rendering the Richmond woman of to-day a fuller and more efficient service through the accumulated experience of

Twenty-five Years of Specialization in the Needs of Richmond Homes

On April

In the days of the mule car, before the light or electricity transformed Broad Street into Richmond's White Way, when the town's population scarcely touched eighty thousand, the firm of started business at No. 709 East Broad Street--the beginning of what was to prove one of the foremost institutions of our city--an establishment whose clientele has grown with every succeeding year upon a foundation of business principles of efficient service in the art of home furnishings.

Sydnor & Hundley,

We invite our patrons of these years--the heads of homes and their children to join with us in celebrating our

Silver Anniversary

on Wednesday, when we will welcome our friends in informal reception, at the same time showing in exhibit our elaborate display of exclusive furnishings.
